

If the Commission really wants to help small locally owned radio stations, it should enforce it's original implied requirement that satellite delivered radio be confined to a national programmed subscription service void of local content elements. Our local content is all we have left to compete with.